In a slashing game of basket-ball the Washington Y. M. C. A. quintet downed Baltimore Central Y. M. C. More than 150 persons braved the storm and accompanied the crack Monumental City-team, fully expecting to be rewarded with a victory.

The game was a bit rough, and several times a mix-up threatened, but the boys of both teams were so zealous to keep on the floor that tempers were curbed in the nick of time

Washington won by superior team work and more accurate shooting. Jones, Croghan, and Hubbard scored all the points. George Reges made his first appearance in a basket-ball uniform for several ing tabs on Kreiger, whom, it will be remembered, made a run-away race of the last game in Baltimore, putting his team in the lead, and finally landing it a winner. That Reges was equal to the task is shown by Kreiger's total of two. and both of these were scored by the big fellow with a Washington man clinging to his back.
